Matheran, a quaint hill station in Maharashtra, India, is renowned for its colonial charm and scenic beauty. Situated at an elevation of 800 meters in the Western Ghats, it's one of the few places in the world where motor vehicles are banned, preserving its serene environment. Visitors can explore over 30 viewpoints, including Echo Point and Panorama Point, offering stunning vistas of the surrounding landscape. The area is rich in biodiversity, with lush forests, diverse flora and fauna, and pleasant weather year-round. Matheran's toy train, a UNESCO World Heritage site, adds to its old-world allure.
